A time to reflect

Nearly a century has come and gone since the birth of Centralia Junior College. Take a moment to reflect on the special time that marked the beginning of the college and how it has served and continues to serve you.

Time to take action

What better way to pay tribute to a college that has served so many generations than to be a part of something special.

Yes! I want to create a lasting memory of my connection with Centralia College. I want to purchase:

Your opportunity . . .

Cast in stone

With our magnificent remodeled Health and Wellness Center and the adjacent Heritage Court, you now have two exciting opportunities to show your support and keep alive the connection you enjoy with Centralia College.

You can make this connection a lasting legacy with an engraved brick or paver that will be placed in your choice of Heritage Court or the HWC brick court!

An engraved brick offers a unique opportunity to permanently honor or commemorate an individual or group that has touched your life. Your brick becomes a lasting remembrance that will be shared with everyone who enters the Health and Wellness Center (gym) or visits Heritage Court.

Bricks are purchased for many different reasons:
- Honor the memory of a loved one
- Remember a meaningful occasion
- Pay tribute to a special person or group
- Recognize family members or special friends
- Provide a unique gift

An official Certificate of Recognition will be mailed to you or the designated recipient of your generosity with each brick you order. It's our way of expressing our gratitude for your support.

Make your name or the name of a loved one a permanent part of Centralia College and the community by purchasing a legacy brick.

HERITAGE COURT

Centralia Junior College started in 1925 on the third floor of the old Centralia High School. The concept of the junior institution quickly caught on and the college thrived, although there were challenging times during the Great Depression and WWII.

Centralia High School was damaged in the 1965 earthquake that rocked southwest Washington, and the building was condemned and torn down in 1969. The high school was relocated, leaving the existing buildings and land for the college to purchase.

Bricks and other memorabilia were salvaged from the demolition site. Jim Stiltnner, a local entrepreneur, saved the columns, which had been in the front of the old brick building, and in late 1994 the Stiltners donated the old sandstone columns to Centralia College.

The college reset the columns close to their original location on a site behind the Health and Wellness Center, near what was the front entrance to Centralia High School; and the concept of Heritage Court was born.

Heritage Court recognizes individuals with ties to Centralia High School or Centralia College. The courtyard features replica light standards, a park bench and a solid brick courtyard. Bricks will be engraved with the name of the donor or in commemoration of individuals, past, present or future, who care about education.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS CENTER

About one decade after the birth of Centralia Junior College, work started on the gym and was completed 1936 in the art-deco style popular during that era.

For the next 33 years the gym served high school and college students. In 1969 the college purchased the high school property, which included the gym.

The building served the college and the community but time took a toll on its condition. In 2008 the college initiated a remodel and turned the building into a modern Health and Wellness Center (HWC). The remodel captured the look and feel of the old building, keeping alive the rich history of this facility, including the gym, that has served the community since it opened.

The gym holds a special place for many Centralia College students and alumni. Hundreds of athletes have called the gym their home and many fond memories of Centralia College were forged there.

Now you have an opportunity to have a lasting part in this transformation. A brick or paver engraved with your name will serve as a reminder of a connection to Centralia College. Bricks or pavers can also serve as a tribute to a family member, relative or friend.
