4.040 ATHLETICS (INTERCOLLEGIATE)

CAMPUS CONTACT: V.P. of Student Services

POLICY:

Centralia College may offer intercollegiate athletic programs to (a) enhance individual student development, (b) build a sense of identity with the college, (c) strengthen the bond between the college and the communities, and (d) foster cooperation and competition.

The introduction of new athletic programs or the significant expansion of existing athletic programs shall be approved by the president. Proposals for new or expanded programs shall include sources of and amounts of funding required and proposed expenditures.

The vice president of student services has the responsibility for the administration of the college athletic program. Under the direction of the president, two athletic commissioners are appointed by the vice president of student services to serve on the Northwest Athletic Conference (NWAC). The director of sports programs is responsible for the development, organization, administration, coordination and supervision of intercollegiate activities. Centralia College competes in a comprehensive package of men's and women's sports to ensure Title IX compliance.
